Transportation Resource Exchange Center

The screenshot shows a Netscape browser window titled "Exchange Center - Netscape". The address bar contains "http://www.trex-center.org". The website has a green header with three navigation buttons: "01. USER", "02. SUBJECT", and "03. RESEARCH ROUTES". Below the header is the "T-REX" logo and the text "TRANSPORTATION RESOURCE EXCHANGE CENTER". The main content area features a circular graphic on the left and a text block on the right. The text block describes the T-REX website as a comprehensive resource for radioactive materials transportation, providing documents, databases, and links to relevant people and organizations. It also mentions reference services and a toll-free number: 1-877-287-TREX. A second, identical text block is visible below a row of six dots, suggesting a scrollable or multi-column layout.
