

Very Simple solution to make solar financing cheaper:

Allow the investment tax credit for solar to offset active income as well as the passive income it currently offsets.

This would allow us to reach out to more investors rather than just the super wealthy or large "C" corps. Tax equity passive income investors are few and far between so they are demanding a very high interest rate. Sometimes as high as 10%. We need access to more private investment to bring that number down. The oil and gas leases have an exemption to this rule. See IRS publication 925. Solar needs this exemption as well.
