This amount takes into consideration SST's overall performance. The Department of Energy (DOE) notes excellent performance by SST in all the subjective areas. Scope and the volume of work increased greatly as a result of the transfer of the Gaseous Diffusion Plant back to DOE control. During this time, SST significantly grew their organization to successfully perform such new tasks as redesigning switchyard configuration to support infrastructure optimization to establishing and greatly expanding technology infrastructure to support five hundred new employees associated with the transition contractor. SST maintained excellent performance with their routine infrastructure tasks during the transition period.
