

Coming in Two Days!

EJ Conference, Inc., Presents

The State of Environmental Justice in America 2010 Conference

May 12–14, 2010

Howard University School of Law (Washington, DC) on May 12, 2010
Washington Marriott at Metro Center (Washington, DC) on May 13 and 14, 2010

Scheduled Speakers

Eric Holder, U.S. Attorney General

Ignacia Moreno, Assistant U.S. Attorney General,
Environment and Natural Resources Division,
U.S. Department of Justice

Donna Christensen, Congresswoman, U.S. Virgin Islands

Donald Payne, Congressman, New Jersey

Kurt Schmoke, Dean, Howard University School of Law

Marilyn Murrell, Mayor, Arcadia, Oklahoma;
Chair, National Small Town Alliance

Dr. Benjamin F. Chavis, Jr., President, Online Education Services, Inc.

Beverly Hogan, President, Tougaloo College,
Tougaloo, Mississippi

Nikki Buffa, Associate Director for Communities,
Environmental Protection and Green Jobs,
White House Council on Environmental Quality

David Geiser, Director, U.S. Department of Energy Office of Legacy Management

Cheryl Cook, Deputy Under Secretary,
U.S. Department of Agriculture

Robert Stanton, Special Assistant to the Secretary, U.S. Department of Interior

Cynthia Anderson, Director, American Recovery and Reinvestment Act Funding,
U.S. Department of Energy

Brendolyn Jenkins, Executive Director,
The Imani Group, Inc.

Heather Valentine-Gates,
The Urban Environment Institute of Georgia

Lessie Price, Manager,
URS Washington Division

Daria Neal, Lawyers Committee for Civil Rights

Hermaine Pierre, Tennessee State University

Ryan Jackson, Columbia University and many others.

The State of Environmental Justice in America 2010 Conference

May 12–14, 2010

Selected Panel Discussions

Green Jobs, Clean Energy, and Succession Planning

The Price of Environmental Racism in a Community:
The History and Potential Future of Hyde Park,
Augusta, Georgia

EDUCATE, EMPOWER, EMPLOY:
SRS Superfund Job Training Initiative

Transforming and Diversifying HBCUs Through Collaborative Relationships

Brownfields and Environmental Justice: New Initiatives for a New Decade of Community Revitalization

Evaluating Environmental Justice Strategies in Federal Agencies: A Regional Focus

The Time is Now: Implementation of Environmental Justice Policy in the Obama Administration

Putting the Neighbor Back in the 'Hood

Chemicals in Your Community: What You Need to Know

African American Stakeholders' Environmental Perception with Regard to a Major Urban Development Project

Organizing Across Borders: Building a Global Coalition for Environmental and Climate Change

A Seat at the Table – Book Discussion

Environmental Justice at DOE Sites

Environmental Health Issues in Indian Country

Congressional Closing Luncheon: A Discussion on Health, Energy, and Jobs

and many others.

The State of Environmental Justice in America Conference, the fourth annual conference, will convene at the Howard University School of Law on May 12, and at the Washington Marriott Hotel at Metro Center, 775 12th Street NW, Washington, DC, May 13 through 14.

The 2010 conference is moving to larger quarters to provide greater services to participants. This year's conference will concentrate on green jobs, clean energy, succession planning, and youth involvement. The conference continues to bring together participants from Federal agencies, academia, business and industry, non-profit organizations, and faith-based organizations, as well as local community activists and citizens to participate in dialogue on achieving equality of environmental protection.

To register for the conference, visit www.ejconference.net.

Send inquiries to ejinamerica@hotmail.com.